Ethics is an essential part of the accountancy profession. We maintain and uphold ethics throughout the CA qualification to develop your ethical capabilities - so you'll always know how to make the righteous decision, even when no one is looking!

You'll develop your ethical capabilities in three ways:

Learn - not only is ethics integrated throughout the CA modules, you'll also need to complete our training programs.

Practise - our resource persons help you understand ethical dilemmas through a range of scenarios.

Apply - once you understand the principles, you'll need to show your employer that you are able to apply ethical capabilities in your day-to-day role.

Trainng

We put all-out effort in training to make you a Chartered Accountant. The duration of training generally depends on a candidate's prior level of education/certifications. It covers the areas of real-life work in accounting, auditing, taxation, information technology and finance. With the training, you would develop professional skills and ethical capabilities that ensure you have a hands-on experience while starting your career path.

Professional Development

Professional development is an essential part of training. It prepares you to successfully handle a variety of situations that you will come across throughout your career. The skills framework is made up of seven ladders, each containing seven steps that represent particular skills.
